OUR TOWN

Did you go to the Memorial Day services Wednesday in the district court room. Not many came. It was rather hot and inconveniences are too much for the average to overcome. It is easy to forget the tread of many feet —that vast number of buoyant American soldiery, that marched away in 1917 for the hell that was flaming across the continent of Europe. Now with the sordid battles of peace and their sacrifices left behind we find it often inconvenient to do them honor.

Here is McRae's immortal poem "In Flanders Fields." He was a young Scotchman and was killed in battle. For sentiment as well as literature this poem quoted by W. G. Gillis in his memorial day address, ranks among the best. Below it the reply to McRae's poem. It is anonymous, a not infrequent atmosphere of many great utterances:

In Flanders fields the poppies blow
Between the crosses, row on row,
That mark our place; and in the sky
The larks, still bravely singing, fly
Scarce hear amid the guns below.

We are the dead. Short days ago
We lived, felt dawn, saw sunset glow
Loved and were loved, and now we lie
In Flanders fields.

Take up our quarrel with the foe:
To you from failing hands we throw
The torch; be yours to hold it high.
If ye break faith with us who die
We shall not sleep though poppies grow
In Flanders fields.

In Flanders fields the cannon boom
And fitful flashes light the gloom.
While up above, the eagles fly
The fiercest dest[illegible]ers of the sky
With stains of earth wherein you lie
Is redder than the poppy bloom,
In Flanders fields.

Sleep on, ye brave, the shrieking shell,
The quaking trench the startled yell,
The fury of the battle hell
Shall wake you not for all is well
Your flaming torch aloft we bear,
With burning heart and oath we swear
To keep the faith, to fight it through,
To crush the foe or sleep with you
In Flanders fields.

The good women were faithful as usual. Flowers were given by the women and enough that each grave, no matter how distant or removed from the paths in remote sections of the county, might have its tribute of blossoms.

Memorial Day is a day set apart in all the states of the American Union except Texas and Idaho for the purpose of commemorating the soldiers who fell in the civil war and decorating their graves. May 30 is the day thus set apart in all the Northern and Western States and in Virginia, where as in all the Southern States, the name adopted is Confederate Memorial Day. Alabama, Georgia, Mississippi and Florida observe April 26. North and South Carolina observe May 10. Tennessee observes the second Friday in May and Louisiana June 3, the birth date of Jefferson Davis.

The address of Judge Gillis was decidedly good. Capable at all times of captivating an audience, he gave to this occasion an inspiring recital of American events in which our ideals have been at their best. It was an address on which all might unite in common fealty to the things for which America has stood since the founding of the government. In it there was praise for all with tender tributes to the heroes of the Southland and the great principles for which they died. In his tribute to the fallen of the world war he at once enlisted the agreement of all that in their sacrifice a new world liberty was born.

Politicians and little statesmen may make a mockery of patriotism; selfish nations and faithless diplomats may defeat for a time this new birth of freedom, but the sacrifices of those who died and these who remain to give testimony of their heroism, will remain ever a controlling influence in American life for peace and unity among mankind.

Joe Salac, a real American, born of foreign parentage, a Catholic, was the first boy to give his life from Milam county in the world war.

Cameron schools graduate 63 from the Senior class. Where will these go from the school room? What will they do in life? Much we hope and are assured, but does it not follow as natural for inquiry why we haven't something to offer them at home? One of the sad plights of modern times is the lack of attractive surroundings for young people at home after they have finished their high school days. No statesman has yet been big enough to see the incompleteness of our educational system. Boys and girls should be able to obtain as good education in Milam county as in any of the larger schools and this will come to pass some day when folks are less provincial and the politicians less ignorant. Education of today lacks training for life careers and fails to provide those structures within the community and county that make for retaining the priceless values in girls and boys who annually graduate from our high schools.

Lynch Davidson at the Beaumont convention said: "Moody was elected last time by the Klan and with his knowledge and consent." It was Lynch who coined the phrase: "Dan's the Man says the Klan."

Here is what Mefo of the Houston Press says: "Did the Smith people gain anything at Beaumont? Didn't they sacrifice everything in order to join hands with Anti-Smith Moody rather than anti-Smith Love? Why didn't they stand on their candidate's merits and say "a plague on both your houses." Isn't it a fact that that there is a very strong Smith sentiment thruout the state and that this was smothered by the politicians at Beaumont who thought more of "harmony" than principle?

MRS. J. M. DAWSON IN ADDRESS TO SENIORS

BACCALAUREATE SERMON AT METHODIST CHURCH ON SUNDAY NIGHT

A capacity house at the First Methodist church greeted the graduating class of Yoe High school Sunday evening, May 27th when they marched in to hear the Baccalaureate sermon which was delivered by Mrs. J. This was the first time a graduating class had the distinction of having a woman to give the Baccalaureate sermon in Cameron and stands out with charm and distinction. Mrs. Dawson is a woman of high ideals and is a wonderful and forceful speaker, and put over her message in the most approved manner. She is a lady to attract her hearers on first appearance, and soon had her audience in rapt attention. Her praise has been heard from church to home, and on the streets. She is one of the most powerful speakers ever heard in Cameron.

The following program was rendered during the evening.

MISS MARY COLE

Music lovers in Cameron were delighted Tuesday night with the appearance of Miss Mary Cole in the music recital given by Robert Smith for his graduating class of pupils. Miss Cole was given a prominent place in the program, although not a pupil of Mr. Smith. She has many accomulishments in music and is an artist of note.

Regret is expressed on every hand that Miss Cole is soon to leave Cameron for Richmond where her father Rev. O. J. Cole has been called to the pastorate of the First Baptist church.

Miss Cole has many compliments to her musical talents. She won first place in the South Texas Music Meet at Kingsville and has a silver loving cup as a tribute to her credit for that occasion. She won first place for two years in succession in local contests and took third place in the state music contest at Fort Worth. Miss Cole's friends here appreciate her talents and regret that she is soon to leave Cameron.

GAS COMPANY WILL OPEN OFFICE MONDAY

PUBLIC INVITED TO CALL AND SEE FACTORY REPRESENTATIVE FOR STOVES

The Gas Company is holding the spotlight this week in Cameron with their equipment laying the mains that are soon to bring to this city the greatest utilities yet known to man.

On Monday the business office will open in the Sampson building next door to the Auditorium Hotel building. J. L. Braly, new business manager, will be in charge of the business office. Mr. and Mrs. Braly arrived here this week to superintend overhauling of the building. Mr .Braly is a veteran of the world war and the people here welcome he and his wife to Cameron.

A factory representative will be present to explain the merits of the Roper Gas Stoves. The company has an announcement in this issue.

Work is going forward rapidly with the construction of the mains.

Wayside Inn Ready For Tourist Trade

Tourists travel in Cameron this year will find at Wayside Inn a number of well furnished cottages and other conveniences such as will be found in the better tourist camps of the state.

Ellwood Cammer has recently completed these cottages which are furnished and will rent for $1 a day, the cheapest rate offered in Texas, he says. The camp is kept clean and attractive at all times.

In addition to the cottages that rent for $1 a day the camp furnishes free electric lights, water and other accomodations.

Mr. Cammer expects to entertain a large number of tourists this year at this camp.

O. J. COLE TO RICHMOND BAPTIST CHURCH CALL

RESIGNS AS MISSIONARY HERE AND TAKES BIG CHURCH IN FORT BEND COUNTY

O. J. Cole for the past year or more Baptist missionary for Milam county, has accepted the call extended from the First Baptist church at Richmond in Fort Bend County.

Mr. Cole and family will leave Cameron in a short time for their new home.

He came to Milam county from Kingsville where he had been pastor for a number of years, to take over the work as missionary for Milam county. His work here has endeared him to a wide circle of friends. He is one of the most influential missionaries the county has had. As a speaker he has had no equal and the people whenever opportunity presented have greeted him in great numbers. He has preached at the Baptist church here on a number of occasions.

His resignation will be received with genuine regret by the people of the county and they wish for him and his good family much happiness and prosperity in their new home at Richmond.

Mr. and Mrs. Batte Entertain

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Batte entertained the members of the graduating class of the Yoe High School and the high school teachers at six o'clock last Thursday evening at their country home, a fine old white house that nestles among the sycamores at the north edge of Cameron, surrounded by the peaceful and quiet atmosphere of the Southern plantation life.

The entertainment was a barbecue arranged by Mr. and Mrs. Batte in honor of their daughter, Miss Mary Bell Batte who is a member of the graduating class of 1928, and Edwin Day, who is also a member of the class and resides in the Batte home.

The spread of oaks near the home a beautiful park, was the scene of the entertainment. Seats were placed for comfort of the guests and a stage had bee nerected where negroes in an orchestra played during the evening.

The banquet table was arranged under the large oak trees and a bountiful feast was served in faultless style by the colored waiters and waitresses. The menu was barbecued mutton, calf, and pig, fried chicken, fish and squirrel, potatoe salad, chicken salad, stuffed egg and pickle with bread and coffee and lemonade. Miss Mary Bell gave thanks. Cold drinks were served throughout the evening.

A plantation program by negroes from the Batte farms was a big feature of the program following the banquet. The program presented some fine talent and was very interesting, although those who took part had had very little rehearsal. Songs, dialogs, readings and dancing were the main features of the program. Mr. Batte made a splendid program, saying that much of his success is due to those who have been faithful to him. About 75 of his negro employes were present.

Among the number of negroes present was the beloved "Black Mammy" who has been with the Batte family for more than 60 years.

Mrs. Batte also made a splendid address to the young graduates, stressing the need of higher education and assured them of her interest in their future.

Among the guests present aside from members of the class were Mises Jolly Blanche Pitts, Mary Alice Porter, Gladys Gray, Elizabeth Goddard, Gladys Taylor Delphia Scott, Velda Walker and Mesdames Wilbur Todd and J. B. White; Messrs Guy T. Newton, Fred Temple, Schofner Sterling and L. Van Perkins.

Mrs. Jenness Entertains

On Thursday night of last week Mrs. Clifton Jenness entertained the Mr. and Mrs. Bridge Club.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Stanton Dossett and Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Levy.

High score prize was a gift shop article and was awarded Charlie Frank Green. Low was a dainty bottle of bath salts and was given Mrs. Stanton Dossett. The hostess served a salad plate with tea.

Again on Friday afternoon Mrs. Jenness was a delightful hostess to the Friday afternoon matron's bridge club. The home was decorated thruout in bright spring flowers. A dainty salad plate with tea was served at the card tables at the conclusion of the games. Mrs. Eber Flinn was winner of high score and was given bath powder. Mrs. Dan Collins received low, being a bottle of bath salts.

Mr. Lane Denson and son are guests of Dr. and Mrs. John Denson.

SOLDIERS HONORED IN MEMORIAL EXERCISES

W. G. GILLIS DELIVERS ADDRESS J. D. BASKIN IS MASTER OF CEREMONIES

Soldiers of the world war and all wars were honored Wednesday morning at the memorial exercises held in the district court room with J. D. Baskin, veteran, in the chair and W. G. Gillis delivering the address.

Mr. Baskin called the meeting to order and in a brief address of inspiration told the purposes of the meeting.

H. G. Kenney, pastor of the Presbyterian church, delivered the invocation and Mr. Baskin introduced Judge Gillis who addressed the gathering, taking as his theme the significance of memorial day and the ideals for which the men of all wars have died.

The address of Judge Gillis was one of interesting detail and fine sentiment, culminating in a splendid tribute to the men who died in the world war for a new birth of liberty and freedom.

Roll call of 68 veterans who died was read by J. B. White after which one minute of silent prayer was held and this was followed by taps sounded by Ben Dryer, ex-service man.

Many beautiful bouquets of flowers were given by the women of Cameron and the veterans went to the graves of their fallen comrades after the service to decorate them with flowers and flags.

TROOP NO. 39 OF BOY SCOUTS IS GROWING

LARRY HACKEBEIL, SCOUT MASTER, NOW HAS THREE PATROLS

Troop No. 39 in the Heart O'Texas Council is making rapid progress under the leadership of Larry Hackebeil the scout master.

The troop now numbers in its membership 24 boys and another patrol is being formed.

The troop has five first class scouts. They have learned the first aid service of the organization and have mastered the Morse code system which requires sending 16 words per minute over telegraph.

The troop is meeting each Friday night and holds a hike every other week. Some of the boys are now planning to attend the summer camp at Valley Mills.

Mr. Hackebeil says that plans are being considered for a summer camp near Cameron.

An interesting development in scout work here now is the effort of the boys to obtain merit badges in various lines of work. To become an Eagle Scout a boy must have 21 merit badges.

There has been some hesitance on the part of parents to their boys joining the scouts but the boys should be encouraged to join. They will be under the leadership of good men and their environment will be the best.

Scout Meeting

Last Friday night Boy Scout Troop No. 1 had their regular weekly meeting with twelve members present. The boys seem to be taking good interest in the scout work. The meeting was held under the supervision of the Scout Master Leroy Massengale and our new Assistant Scout Master Cecil Lewis who is from Houston where he reached the rank of an Eagle Scout. We have two patrols, the Owl Patrol with J. C. Crosby as patrol leader and the Crow Patrol with Clyde Greenless as patrol leader.

Several boys passed various tests. Paul Ragsdale, a new member passed part of the Tenderfoot test. Ladelle Newton, T. R. Crosby, Clyde Greenless, Harry Lee Greenless, Victor Isebell and Ralph White all passed parts of the second class test while J. C. Crosby worked in his first class test. We are going to organize a scout haze ball team. There will be other athletics also including wal scalling, running, broad jumping, high jumping and others.

We are planning to go on an overnight hike this week which will be our first one this year.

We want more new members. Some of the parents will not let their boys join and we want to take this opportunity to urge them to do so for the Boy Scout is a fine organization to train boys for manhood.

Miss Avice Jenkins, a popular teacher in the Dilly public schools visited her sister Miss Ethel Jenkins last Tuesday in thehome of Mrs. Ike Ledbetter. She was the honoree guest at a picnic given by close friends of Miss Ethel Jenkins.

REVIVAL MEETING IS OPENED HERE TUESDAY

EVANGELIST L. O. BYERLY OF ROCKDALE BRINGS FUNDAMENTAL MESSAGES

The revival meeting announced last week opened Tuesday evening with a very fine crowd in attndance and much interest manifested. The opening sermon, "Why I believe the Bible to be God's word," was spoken of by those who heard it as a very well delivered statement of the ground of our hope. "If the Bible does what it says it will do, when it says it will do it just in the way it says it will do it, then it must be divine and God's word" said Byerly in his introduction and proceeded by ten direct statements known by all to be true to prove his subject.

The services are beginning promptly at 8:0 0o'clock each evening and closing by 9:15.

One of the interesting features of the services is the fine song and praise service. New song books are being used and with several who are playing in an orchestra the music itself is worthy of the time spent. Special music is being rendered by local singers .

"The Church, God's Agency Toward Salvation" will be the subject Thursday evening. Friday evening, "What It Costs to be a Christian." Oother subjects announced from night to night.

Hear Cameron After Milk Plant; Burns Gets Inquiries

One of the many inquiries that came this week to the desk of S. M. Burns, Cameron attorney, who is interested in Cameron is from a Chicago firm selling equipment for dairy plants. They ask Mr. Burns to furnish information about Cameron and say they are in position to assist the city in getting an industry here.

Mr. Burns is to be congratulated on his work in connection with the promotion of this and other industries. The letter says a price of from 50c to 60c per pound for butter fat can be assured the farmers.

Mr. Burns is to be congratulated on his work in behalf of the people of Cameron in securing for the city these industries.

WHAT WE THINK

By FRANK DIXON

The bandit who robs you at the point of a gun is a gentleman compared to some of ou r"best" citizens who rob you politely and according to law. What are we going to do about it? Nothing, everybody thinks his chance will come some day and the law will be on his side.

There is one big advantage in the and of golden streets as far as we know, there will be no taxes to pay.

If a golden calf was erected now it would take an extra police force to keep it from being stolen.

Anjennette does not care whether we wear sock supporters or not, but that does not prevent her from expressing a diabolical opinion of us once in a while. Anjennette further apines and saith much adverse to our dignity and often forgetteth the vows she made not unlike most of her sex. We goeth without buttons, but nail trust supplies our wants quite as effectively as a button trust could. Nails can be used for anything and is hereby declared the great emblem of the Supporterless Fraternity.

Every stenographer should keep a needle and thread handy as part of her paraphernalia. Employers often need services like that and the modern wife does not care for anything of the kind.

Ed Howe says he has gotten so old that the women kiss him. Some women have poor taste anyway. We have not arrived at that age yet.

We have often wondered what on earth a woman wanted to kiss a man for anyway.

If a man does not feel like he is properly bossed he should employ a few stenographers.

Hint to movie picture producers—they should get some other kind of cattle besides Holsteins to represent early days crosing the desert.

The more a man does the more criticism he gets.

Nothing we enjoy more than criticism. It sharpens both our wits and appetites for more. It makes us dig in more, it adds spice to life, it stirs up our sleeping energies, we kick over our mild thought and indulge in hysteria we rave and rant and jump up and down, tear our hair and do things that interest all lookers on, in other words, we create an interesting atmosphere whereby the world thrives.

We are taught that we should earn our living by the sweat of our brow, but we notice that those who get the best living do not sweat.

There are those who insist that the golfist wastes his time, that he could get better exercise in the garden. But why exercise in the garden? There is too much garden sass now. What we insist is that the golfist should save a little to pay the man who does grow garden sass.

Did you ever stop to think that generally you did the wrong thing and almost always wished you had done some other way.

Some preachers ought to have strings tied to their coat tails and when they have prayed long enough someone could jerk it.

We have not had to dodge any missiles lately, but epithets continue to drift our way occasionally.

Granddaughter, true to her inherited feminine instincts continues to direct her grandfather.

After looking over the large families of a generation ago, it is no wonder the present generation is slowing up. Some have gone so far as to claim only mythical chidren and they seem to have trouble enough at that.

In this day of autos and airpanes it is no wonder parenthood is discouraged. In our younger day walking was good.

There is no hope.

Chevrolet To Build Big Assembly Plant At Kansas City

Detroit, May 30.—Marking the latest step in a movement to keep pace with the growing demand for its product, the Chevrolet Motor Company announced here today that construction will start shortly on a mammoth Chevrolet assembly plant in Kansas City. This follows cosely on the opening of a similar plant in Atlanta to serve the Southwest.

When completed in October, the Kansas City plant will be the largest automobile factory in the Southwest and will represent an investment of more than $2,250,000. Like the Atlanta plant, the Kansas City factory will have a capacity of 350 cars a day, providing Chevrolet with facilities for the production of more than 1,250,000 cars annually. The new factory will serve Western Missouri, Kansas, North and South Dakota, Wyoming and Colorado.

W. S. Knudsen, president of the Chevrolet Motor Company, declared today that the opening of a plant in Kansas City has been made necessary to relieve the St. Louis and Janesville factories, where the demand has been taxing production facilities and making it necessary for both plants to work overtime for the last three months. It is a further step in the company's program to insure a regular flow of cars in line with the exceptional public demand, he said.

Twenty-eight acres in the Leeds district have been taken over for the various buildings which will include the main Chevrolet-Fisher assembly unit, an office building, parts and service building, driveway shed, loading dock and power house. With the exception of the office building the units will all be of one story, monitor type roof construction, allowing for the maximum amount of light for workmen. Nearly one-half of the huge Chevrolet-Fisher assembly unit will be occupied by the Fisher Body Corporation for the building of bodies for all Chevrolet closed cars. This close association of the world's largest and foremost automobile body builder will enable Chevrolet to provide the same type of service available in other Chevrolet assembly plants throughout the country. Buildings will have a total of 410,000 square feet of floor space.

Work will be provided for 1500 people and the payroll will exceed $9000 daily. Following the Chevrolet policy of recruiting workmen from the respective communities in which its plants are located, local help will be employed almost exclusively, with the exception of a few technically trained men heading the various departments. This plant will be equipped with the latest appliances for the efficient manufacturing of automobiles similar to those in use in other Chevrolet plants throughout the country. Edward Shaw, at present general superintendent of the Chevrolet assembly plant in Flint, will assume management of the plant.

The sales department, now operating in the Kansas City Zone location, 19th and Grand Avenue, Kansas City, Missouri, will be removed to the plant as soon as the plant is ready for occupancy, and Mr. Paul M. Seese will be in charge of the work of the sales and Service department. Appointment of a resident comptroller will be announced at a later date.

Plans were drawn by Albert Kahn, Detroit architect.

The plant will be served by the Missouri Pacific railroad and the Kansas City-Southern, with track space allowing for the storage of 300 freight cars.

Completion of the Kansas City project will provide Chevrolet with nine assembly plants throughout the country and an export plant at Bloomfield, N. J. Domestic assembly plants are located in Flint, Atlanta, Tarrytown, Norwood, Oakland, Buffalo Janesville and St. Louis. In addition, Chevrolet maintains manufacturing plants in Detroit, Bay City, Saginaw, Flint and Toledo.

Ready cooperation on part of city officials of Kansas City in changing slightly the course of the Rayton road road companies made possible the rapid completion of arrangements for and unusual assistance from the railthe location of the plant, Chevrolet officials pointed out.

SCIENCE NOTES

University of Chicago professors report successful treatment of seasickness by administering three to five grains of sodium nitrate every 2 hours. The chemical has a reducing effect on the blood pressure, thus diminishing the strain on the vestibule of the ear, which is thought to be the seat of the trouble.

Besides its cane and beets, the United States has an important source of sugar in its corn fields, although this product has not yet been produced in any great quantities, due to the intricate processes involved in its manfacture. It has proved useful in medicine, especially for feeding infants and invalids and serves an important purpose in the feed industry.

Temperatures of more than 1800 degrees Fahrenheit are registered on a thermometer of fused quartz, employing gallium instead of mercury. The reason for these substitutes is that glass melts at a far lower temperature than those which the meter records and mercury would boil and explode the instrument.

Among the instruments an amateur astronomer in Los Angeles has used in making a relief model of the moon is a dentist's drill. It is helpful in carving out the small craters and other irregularities on the surface of the model which is fashioned of plaster of paris. Photographs supplied by Mount Wilson observatory and data obtained through two high-powered telescopes of his own have been used by the astronomer in preparing the model.

A visible record of the action of the pulse for any desired period is obtained without discomfort to the subject or tedium to the observer with an electrical instrument developed in Germany. Levers attached to the patient's wrist move with the pulse beats, causing an electric circuit to be opened and closed.

Hafnium, an element discovered in Denmark, is present in the sun, according to special photographs made of that body. This is determined by examining the light produced by the substance under an apparatus that splits light rays into their constituent colors, or spectrum. Hafnium produces in this a characteristic pattern of bands whereby it can be identified in examining the light from the sun. Although the substance is believed to be more plentiful in the earth's crust than lead or tin, it so far, has been obtained only in small quantities.

Do you kow how the starter starts the car? Exactly how an automobile engine operates? How a steam engine uses the same steam three times? These, and many other interesting questions concerning the working of mechanical units of everyday life are answered in an entertaining exhibit of models, which has just been prepared. The collection will be taken around the country for exhibit in many places.

A new nitrated steel, which is comparatively impervious to wear, is expected to prolong greatly the life of automobiles and other machines. Chrome and nickel steel, compared with the new product, are said to be like putty. An automobile cylinder of cast steel showed wear of forty per cent after the car had been driven 18,630 miles, while a cylinder of nitrated steel had worn but two per cent.

By the use of dummies of adults and children, scientists at the bureau of standards have performed a number of tests that show some of the hazards of night automobile driving and the difficulties of providing adequate lighting. One of the striking results of the experiments proved the importance of light-colored clothing at night as an additional protection to the pedestrian. When the dummy of the man was dressed in white is was seen twice as easily as when clothed in dark garb and appeared to be considerably larger.

In a few generations, almost all persons will have brown eyes, a London specialist predicts. He bases his theory on the fact that brown eyes are better adapted to strong light than blue, and that nature will therefore produce a brown-colored iris in the eyes of people who habitually face the strong illumination of artificial lights. Natives of the tropics have dark eyes, he points out, to shield them from the glare of the sun.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Senior B. Y. P. U.

The member of the Senior B. Y. P. U. and the sponsors met at the annex of the Baptist church Monday night for a business session after which a social hour was enjoyed.

Miss Verna King who has been interested in B. Y. P. U. work for several years was in a very humorous way dismissed from the union as 'Miss King' but was unanimously elected to membership in all departments of the Union as Mrs. Lee Tag after her marriage to Mr. Tag June 5.

She was then presented with a silver ladie, a gift from the Senior B. Y. P. U., as a token of appreciation for faithful and efficient work in the Union as a member and leader.

The Original "Home, Sweet Home"

At East Hampton, Long Island, still stands the home immortalized by Thomas Howard Payne, who was born 137 years ago this month. Payne achieved fame as poet, writer, actor, editor, and one-time American Consul to Tunis. But, although endowed with unusual talents, he never managed to save for the future, regardless of his income.

While on the verge of starvation in Paris, in 1823, he wrote the opera "Clari, the Maid of Milan" and in it introduced "Home, Sweet Home." In the song Payne wrote the heartache of the wanderer—the man who in old age still misses the joy, the comforts, the security that go with a home one can call one's own.

"Home, Sweet Home" or any other worth-while possession can be yours—if you build a reserve fund through regular deposits here.

TEXAS GIRL RESCUED IN WILDS OF ALASKA BY OLD RUSSIAN

During his vacation tour of the North two years ago Dr. W. R. Wallis of this city, made the acquaintance of F. W. Williamson, a silver fox breeder of Kusilof, Alaska, with whom he has since carried on a more or less regular friendly correspondence. In a recent letter from Williamson an account is given of the heroic rescue of a Texas girl in the wilds of an Alaskan winter, the hero being an old Russian by the name of Kotoff.

The girl was Miss Bess Howe, of Seymour, Texas, who was employed as school teacher at a Russian village called Ninilchik, fifty miles from civilization. She had suffered a wound in the abdomen by accidental discharge of a pistol. The nearest physician was at Anchorage, 130 miles away. Williamson, at his Kusilof fox ranch fifty miles distant had a wireless station. The old Russian, Kotoff, 'mushed' the fifty miles through the night to Williamson's place, only to find that the wireless operator was off on vacation. However, it seemed that Kotoff himself had once studied wireless in Siberia and remembered enough of the code to send out the distress signel, which after several hours was picked up by the Government station at Anchorage, and resulted in a physician being sent to the young lady's aid by airplane. She was taken in the plane to the hospital at Anchorage, where an operation saved her life. Later she was carried to Seattle, where relatives from Texas met her and accompanied her home to Seymour. The letter states that the girl finally made a complete recovery.

HARVEY HUX DEAD FROM LIGHTNING STROKE

VICTIM DIES ALMOST INSTANTLY AS WIFE ESCAPES WITH SINGED HAIR.

Harvey Hux was killed almost instantly when lightning struck the house in which he was living on Batte's Riverside Farm, about six miles south of here, Sunday. Lightning struck the roof of the house, went down the wall and struck Hux. His wife, who was standing near him, was uninjured, except for having her hair slightly singed.

Irbie Tucker, who lives nearby, saw the bolt striko and rushed to Mr. Hux whom he found gasping for breath.

Hux is survived by a wife and five children.

CRACKLINGS

A few years ago a man I knew in Iowa had a business, a patient he marketed, he sold it out for $20,000. I remember well how he blew off about the long price he got and how he told some of us the business could never bring a profit. Just a few days ago, I saw this man again and he showed me a clipping from the old town, in which it stated the business had made a net profit of $83,000, that last year and $2,000,000 had been offered for the company by the eastern capitalists. "See what I let slip through my fingers,' he mo'aned in utter despair. This man was just a fool dreamer, impractical and no business man. He never could have made $10,000 out of the business in 100 years. He would very probobly have been bankrupt 3 years later. The reason this great price was paid for his former holding was because the men who paid him $20,000 for it knew how to make it pay $83,000 profit and this 'know how' made it worth $2,000,000 to men who wanted to put their money behind such brains. It must be great to have money making brains.

Some of us are like the fellow who was six foot and could not get rest in an ordinary bed so he had one made to suit his length. My how he had anticipated the real rest he would get that first night in the new bed. But alas he forgat the sheets and covers were regular size.

Someone said: "A thought is an idea in transit," which may explain why so many en remain fixed.

I expect Thomas C. Halburton had about the same thing in mind when he wrote: "Some people have a perfect genius for doing nothing and doing it assiduously.

I could be surer about this if I was surer what that last word meant, of just what he wanted it to mean.

Every time I eat cabbage and ham I am remindsd in several hours of those words of Emil Eouvestre: "The stomach is a slave that must accept everything that is given to it, but which avenges wrongs as slyly as does the slave."

Mother, where's that soda. I need it bad and I want it now.

How true these three:

"They that love beyond the world can not be separated by it. Death can not kill what never dies."—Wm. Penn.

"Man can not degrade woman without himself falling into degradation; he can not elevate her without at the same time elevating himself."—Alexander Walker.

"However dull a woman may be, she will understand all there is in love; however intelligent a man may be, he will never know but half of it."—Madame Fee.

A pleasant word, a smile, will get nore results than extra pay, with most folks.

The SilentS Partner says: "'Kid' yourself into thinking that no one else can hold your job and goon they will appoint another just to 'stop your kiddin'."

When a man must praise himself it's a sure sign h'es sinking.

Sorrow makes a man think, and think and think.

God did things right when he made man. We realize this fact more each day as we grow older. For example, he gave us a pair of ears (two) and just one tongue and is it not logical that he intended we should listen twice and speak once.

In Bible times it was a miracle for an ass to speak—today in this golden century, it is a miracle if you can keep an ass from talking you to death.

Did you ever notice how you feel towards a person who whenever he meets or passes you, says, "How-do-you-do, Mr. Blank,' calling your name? I've been trying this for years and it's great. Try it tomorrow and the next day.

There's another thing we forget sometimes, it's this: Education, eloquence, zeal or wit can not reach a heart as can the little short sentence, 'Thank you.'

Think for yourself and think of the other fellow, but don't bother to think for him.

We humans are all hungry for acknowledged appreciation.

Is public opinion eventually right?

Silent Partner says: "There can be no private thought, no personal action, that does not some day write its self into the history of your life.

Why He Succeeded

Honored politically and professionally, during his lifetime, Dr. R. V. Pierce, whose picture appears here, made a success few have equalled. Years of Service in Model T Fords

Expenditure of few dollars may enable you to get thousands of miles from your old car

THE Model T Ford is still a great car. It led the motor industry for twenty years and it is used today by more people than any other automobile. More than eight million Model T Fords are in active service in city, town and country, and many of them can be driven for two, three and five years and even longer at very small up-keep expense.

The cost of Model T parts and of necessary labor is unusually low because of established Ford policies.

New fenders, for instance, cost from $3.50 to $5 each, with a labor charge of $1 to $2.50. Tuning up the motor and replacing commutator case, brush and vibrator points costs only $1, with a small charge for material. Brake shoes can be installed and emergency brakes equalized for a labor charge of only $1.25. A labor charge of $4 to $5 will cover the overhauling of the front axle, rebushing springs and spring perches, and straightening, aligning and adjusting wheels.

The labor charge for overhauling the average rear axle runs from $5.75 to $7. Grinding valves and cleaning carbon can be done for $3 to $4.

A set of four new pistons costs only $7. For a labor charge of $20 to $25 you can have your motor and transmission completely overhauled. Parts are extra.

All of these prices are approximate, of course, because the cost of materials needed will depend on the condition of each car. They show, however, the low cost of putting the Model T Ford in shape for thousands of miles of additional service.

See the nearest Ford dealer, therefore, and have him estimate on the cost of re-conditioning your Model T Ford. He will tell you, in advance, exactly how much the complete job will cost.

Investing in the Future of TEXAS

TEXAS, still relatively sparsely settled, has seen a remarkable growth in electric facilities in recent years.

This company has constructed generating plants, built nearly one thousand miles of transmission lines—an investment for the present and future agricultural and industrial Texas.

It has done this because it has faith in Texas.

And it has done this because it has sought to encourage new capital to flow into the State for the development of natural resources and to stimulate the founding of new industries here, there and everywhere throughout the broad expanse of this mighty empire.

Someone must build! And what can be more practical building than to bring power to places where industries depending on power are earnestly desired?

SLAVES OF CUSTOM

The late Vice-President Marshall declared that what this country needed was a good five-cent cigar. But what it need worse during June, July, August and September is a comfortable hot-weather costume for men, not only in offices and workrooms but on the streets, in social gatherings.

That fine old English man, Stanley Baldwin, made of himself a hero last year when he defied social conventions, challenged the unwritten laws of so-called good breeding, and laughed to scorn the edicts of propriety under which men have groaned and sweated for generations during the dog days. He did all that by simply taking off his coat and hanging it on the back of his chair at a luncheon in an aristocratic club.

Summer is hard on poor custom-and-convention-bound masculinity but its lot in this respect has improved greatly in recent years. Man has at last taken to light-weight suits and has dared to discard the conventional vest. The younger generation has gone so far as to throw away hats and roll hose down to the tops of low-cut shoes.

Now that equality between the sexes is more or less a fact, why should it be proper for woman to appear in public in three or four pieces of sheerest silk and improper for man to appear at dinner or in the drawing room or office in his shirt sleeves? When masculinity acquires the courage to wear straw hats by the custom calendar, it may dare the temperature rather than by to blue-pencil the page in the etiquette book prohibiting removal of the coat in public.

PAY DIRT

A bit of yellow ore or a spurt of black liquid from the bowels of the earth will attract thousands eager to invest their capital and labor in the hope of reaping fortunes. A rumor and the rush is on.

What is true of the gold rush and the oil boom is true of communities. Let the outside world know that in Cameron it will find good wages, prosperity, unusual business opportunities and industrial advantages and it will buy its own ticket.

Why do not more communities take this lesson from the gold rush? Many can trace their growth in population and greater prosperity to that day they decided to broadcast the news that they had something the world wanted. Notable examples have been Los Angeles, the Florida resorts, Detroit, all of which sprang into prominence almost over night.

Every city and town has its "vein of gold" or its 'oil gushers' and Cameron is no exception. Too frequently, communities wait to be discovered from the outside. They do not even know themselves.

There is no more propitious time than the present for Cameron to discover itself and then to tell the world about what it discovers. There is not a citizen who does not believe that this is the very community for which many are even now searching. Even those who have not yet discovered its natural resources do not doubt their existence. Community prospecting always produces "paying dirt."

NO PANACEA FOR RECKLESSNESS

Both sides have been heard on the question of compulsory auto mobile liability insurance. The discussion has been in progress several years, producing in recent months little or no new arguments.

Advocates of the scheme advance the suggestion that it will not only assure recompense for those injured or whose property has been damaged in automobile accidents, but will also tend to make drivers more careful. Opponents, however, argue that the cost of the insurance would be expressively high, that the courts would be clogged with lawsuits, that the plan would increase careless driving rather than curb it, and that it would not always provide proper indemnity to injured persons.

The argument that a compulsory liability law would tend to curb reckless driving seems to be fallacious. The reckless driver is reckless whether he carries insurance or is uninsured. The fact that an automobile is insured against liability means that legal responsibility is shifted only so far as civil actions are concerned. The driver involved in an accident, no matter how much insurance he carries, is answerable to the police.

No one should drive unless he or his employer is able to pay for damages he may cause, and insurance is the cheapest way to purchase such protection. But there are thousands of automobile owners and drivers who are financially irresponsible, and among them are many reckless drivers. These latter inspire the agitation for compulsory automobile insurance.

T. E. L. Class Entertains

Mrs. J. D. Cone with members of her group were hostesses to the T. E. L. class in the annex of the Baptist church Friday afternoon.

The business session was presided over by the president, Mrs. Bertha Brewer, who led the devotional and conducted a round table dicussion on various scriptures which was very interesting and instructive.

Mrs. George McGehee, secretary of the class read the minutes of the last meeting which was approved. The reports on personal service showed a large number of visits to the sick and shut-ins.

Mrs. Bertha Brewer presented the class with the Certificate of Registration with the Sunday School Adult Department of the Baptist Sunday school board at Nashville. This step puts the class in touch with the great south-wide organized class work of the Southern Baptist Convention and we hope will become an incentive to the class to do better work.

Mrs. F. J. Beckerman very kindly offered to have our beautiful certificate framed and it now hangs in our class room. Besides other work and various activities fostered by the class it was voted to send a box of linen to the Baptist sanitarium at Houston.

During the social hour refreshments of sandwiches, olives, sake and ice tea were served. Sweet peas were plate favors.

S. S. & B. Y. P. U. Meet

The Sunday School and B. Y. P. U. Zone will have its regular meeting with the Branchville Baptist church Sunday afternoon at three o'clock. The following is the program to be followed:

Congregational singing, 10 minutes.
Address, H. P. Black.
Vocal solo, Inez Evans.

Piano solo, Cornelia Gunn.
Business meeting.

Seniors Honored

Miss Harriett Flinn, a graduate of Yoe High this year, entertained the entire class and a number of the junior class, last Monday night after the graduation exercises, at the school building with a formal reception at the home of her mother on Thirteenth Street.

The lawn was lighted with lanterns and seats were arranged among the flowers where part of the evening's pleasure was enjoyed.

Punch was served on the porch. Floral decorations were blue and white larkspur, emphasizing the class colors and flowers.

The guests were invited to the dining room where dainty brick cream in blue and white with macaroons were served. The center piece for the tea table was a large mound of blue and white larkspur and blue and white sweet peas.

Misses Dora Emily Moore, Gladys Davis, Florence Atkinson assisted in serving the dining room.

WALKER'S CREEK CHURCH AND COMMUNITY NEWS

ODELL JAMESON, Pastor

As The Writer Sees It

The attendance has been very good at the church services during the last few weeks. There is, however, room for improvement. Why is it not possible to fill the church to overflowing for every service? If every member came all the time, we would soon find it necessary to provide larger auditorium facilities, as well as a new Sunday School annex. Why not?

Your pastor is doing his best to bring something worth while to your attention at every service. There is nothing which more strikingly proves your appreciation of what he is trying to do than your presence at the services and nothing which more surely speaks to him of your lack of appreciation than your absence. He has always felt that if the pastor of any church was worth keeping, he was worth hearing, and that if a congregation was not satisfied, the thing to do was to make a change as quickly as possible. Words are often very meaningless, but attendance at services regularly speaks eloquently to every minister. Why not try hard to be present at every service and to bring others with you when possible?

Our Sermon

We feeble, unsophisticated Christians are falling over stumbling blocks that should be removed.

The first is the stone of inactivity, inertia. There are more dead people sitting in pews unburied than at any period in the last hundred years. Oh, for a good live undertaker to gather up the corpses in the pews of the church and bury them—get them out of the way. Poor, struggling Christians are falling over the inactive, the dead.

The stone of insincerity, or perfunctoriness, should be removed; people who speak in the mechanical, perfunctory, insincere manner. The very choice is mechanical the whole effort disgusting. We want people who are on fire, who believe and are sincere, who would die for their belief.

The stone of selfishness Men who care for themselves, self-centered, self interested, self-opioned cursed with selfishness make a great big stone in the way of struggling Christians.

The stone of worldliness. Two men who claim to be Christians sit down at the lunch counter, they gamble for cigars, they are inconsistent, cursed with worldliness. The poor, struggling Christian wants to know why he has to fall over such in order to make progress. Let's remove such stones at once.

Sunday School Notes

Our Sunday School report for this Sunday was exceptionally good. We had about 74 present and most of these were on time studied lesson, had their Bibles and stayed for preaching.

Two classes are now meeting out under the trees. They are Mrs. Elwood Chamberlain's and Miss Ethel Angell's classes. Can classes make good reports under such conditions? I hould say they can, for Mrs. Chamberlain's class was the only 100 per cent class for that day.

The men's class is doing fine work under the teaching of Mr. Chamberlain. They had one of the largest percentages Sunday they have ever had.

Miss Anna May Dodson resigned her class in order that she may go to school this summer. Mrs. Andy Dragoo, a capable teacher and a friend to the young people, was called on to take Miss Dodson's place.

George R. Angell was granted a leave of absence of three months in order for him to attend Baylor University this summer. Mr. Angell thinks so much of his class that he asked for a leave of abence and not a resignation. He said that when he came back he wanted to teach the intermediates and if he resigned, the class would be given to someone who would not want to give it up when he returned.

Our Graduates

It would be needless to say that Walker's Creek is proud of our two young people, who on Monday night, received their diplomas from Yoe High school. The two who have attained such high honors are Miss Ruby Hightower and Mr. Walter Baskin.

Walker's Creek is counting on both of them in the future and we are sure they will not fail us.

Monday Night Bridge

Miss Bernice Terry was hostess to the members of the Monday Night Bridge Club and a few friends at the home of her sister, Mrs. J. L. Barmore at her home on Thirteenth St.

Floral decorations featured sweet peas and pink roses in the living room. Two tables were set for the games of bridge. At the conclusion of the evening Miss Bill Fontaine was found to hold high score and received a handpainted bud vase. Table favors were also bud vases and were awarded Miss Dulce McCall and Miss Bill Fontaine. The hostess served pineapple salad with tea.

Guests other than club members were Mrs. Chas. Nabours and Mrs. Lee McLane.

Missionary Society

The women of the Methodist church met in circles Monday for Bible study from First and Second Corinthians.

Circle one met with Mrs. Joe Lindsey, Mrs. McIntosh was leader. Circle two met with Mrs. Jeff T. Kemp, Mrs. Kemp was leader. Circle three met with Mrs. Walter Sharpe, Mrs B. T. Harris was leader. Circle four met with Mrs. W. O. Triggs, Mrs. Triggs was leader. Circle five met with Mrs. Julian Baskin, Mrs. Ramsey was leader.

Mrs. J. Frank Smith

Friends in Cameron and near Cameron will be grieved to know of the death of Mrs. J. Frank Smith at her home in Taylor at noon Tuesday. Funeral services were held in Taylor on Wednesday. Mrs. Smith was reared at Milano and had a host of friends at Milano who deeply sympathize with the bereaved family.

IN DESPAIR

Run-down and Nervous Woman Picked Up, Got Strong.

"I can heartily recommend Cardui, because I have found it so helpful," declares Mrs. Norton Smith, of Warrenton, Georgia.

"I was very much run-down, and was hardly able to get about.

"I could not sleep at night, and was in a highly nervous condition. Nothing seemed to help me, and I was almost in despair. I decided to try Cardui and sent for a bottle.

"I soon began to improve. I got so I could eat. My appetite was good. My nerves got stronger, and I was able to sleep well at night. I picked up in weight and my color was much better."

Cardui is sold by all druggists. Try it.

Texas and Texans'

By Will H. Mayes

Political Spotlights

Even a careless glance at the 'political news' in Texas reveals that most of those names appear most prominently in the daily press are the same old spotlighters who are ready to stir up almost any kind of a political mess in Texas every two years if only they may be written about by the political reporters or get their newspaper contributions published in the "Public Opinion" columns. As regularly as a Texas election comes around they trot themselves around for public inspection and at times really come to think they are stirring up great political dust. During presidential years, opportunities being nearly twice as great for attracting attention, they feel like they are in a political heaven. Be patient with them. It is a delusion of a kind for which there is no restraining law in this State.

Homestead Law Attacked

A popular pastime for many years has been to attack the Texas homestead law. It is open to some objections. The homestead should be made to bear its part of any expense in building streets and sidewalks about the homestead without the necessity of general taxation under a bond issue. The benefits derived from the paved streets and cement walks about a piece of property are out of proportion to taxes paid unless all streets are improved alike, and this is impractical. But aside from this objection, the Texas homestead law is a wise safeguard for the home, and often protects it from the wily and usurious money lender. The homestead law can withstand all attacks upon it.

Texas Sulphur Field

An oil man testifying recently at a hearing of the Interstate Commerce Commission stated that while the proven deposits of the Wharton County sulphur field are 7,000,000 tons he had every reason to believe they are 15,000,000 or even 20,000,000 tons. While these figures are beyond the calculating powers of most persons, they are enough to show that Wharton county will be supplying the world with sulphur for many years. Wharton is almost as rich in its cotton and corn crops as in its sulphur and oil fields.

Oiling the Press

Oil wells are getting so numerous around Santa Anna and so close up to the business part of the town that the effect is seen in the constantly improving appearance of the News, which is taking on metropolitan looks and airs.

Tourists Camps Ready

Alpine announces, through the Avalanche, that its tourists camps are ready for the summer tourists. And the camps are ready at Marfa, at Pecos, at Keerville, at Menard and scores more places throughout Texas. The tourists are already on the tour and detour. Schools are closing by the end of the month and the roads in Texas will look like the entire population has left home. An experienced observer can tell just how far up-state the cotton crop is chopped and laid by, by reading the signs on the cars that indicate where they are from.

Beeville's Playground

Beeville has improved its playground park in a way to make it both beautiful and popular. The older people have tennis courts, and there are a merry-go-round, slides, swings and other play appliances for the children. Beeville is among the first of the towns of its size in Texas to popularize its park playgrounds. Doubtless, if not already, some enthusiastic lover of children will volunteer to arrange for supervising the playing at certain hours of the day. Children need leadership in play almost as much as they need grounds and play equipment

Ask the Readers

The Elgin Courier gives some advice as to this column that is modestly repeated here to help along all the papers that feature it. It says: "One of the most interesting features of the Courier is the department "Texas and Texans," written and furnished us weekly by ex-Lieutenant Governor and former Dean of the School of Journalism of the Texas University, Will H. Hays. Mr. Hayes deals with items of interest and current events in a most interesting, concise and thorough manner, and if you are not reading these stories each week, you are really missing something worthwhile." Yes, read them and then tell the editor whether you like them. That will help hi mdecide whether the space is well used.

Panhandle Wheat

In reporting the wheat outlook, following heavy rains in the Panhandle, is better at this time in many years, the Herford Brand states conditions that seem pretty general in all North Texas counties. Much of the crop that had seemed about dead from the long dry season has revived and is growing in a way to give hopes of large returns, and especially if there are more rains before the harvest time. The acreage is slightly larger than usual. Hail damage reported in some sections has not been as heavy as at first believed.

Municipal Waterworks

Taylor seems to have set an example in the matter of municipal ownership of waterworks that many other towns in Texas will follow. By a vote of 622 to 22, and without much hurrah about it, Taylor voted a $250,000 bond issue for waterworks. Now San Marcos through its city commission has ordered a vote on an issue of $150,000 waterworks bonds. Municipal ownership of a good waterworks system makes a town have a mighty independent feeling.

Walking to School

Not many years ago nearly all children who could walk, walked to school and many of them walked long distances. The Associated Press ,having learned that Ethel Hilton, valedictorian of the Bryan high school, walked three miles to school every day, sees a news item in the statement, which all the daily papers of Texas have carried. She not only walked to school, but she was not absent or tardy during the year, and the fact that she is class valedictorian proves that she is bright and applied herself to her studies. It would have been safe to have added that she did not wear high-heeled shoes.

Bluebonnet Costumes

San Antonio hostesses at a chicken barbecue to be given during the National convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs June 1, will all wear 'buebonnet costumes' consisting in a part of a blue bonnet and a blue tea apron. Novel ideas like this always attract and hold attention, and as the bluebonnet is the Texas flower such a costume is particularly appropriate for an entrtainment given by Texas women to out-of-state visitors.

Consoing Figures

The cost of iving is high enough anywhere, as all know who have to provide the necessities of life, but there is some consolation in the figures of the Department of Commerce which show that living is cheaper in the Southwest than elsewhere in the country.

Kelso-Curry

The home of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Kelso of Maysfield was the scene of a party wedding on Monday morning, May 28, 1928 at ten o'clock.

Preceding the ceremony Miss Margaret Isaacs of El Dorado, Texas who is a college friend of the bride, rendered a violin solo, "Because" accompanied on the piano by Miss Olivia Land of Santa Anna, Texas also a college friend of the bride. The violionist and accompanist wore sky blue and orchid dresses.

The bridal party entered to the strains of Lohengrin's "Bridal Chorus," arriving at the altar consisting of an arched trellis entwined with clematis vines mingled with flowers. Leading the party was Rev. Gus J. Craven, pastor of the Christholme Presbyterian church of San Antonio, who stood under the arch, facing the bride and groom and with the brother and sister of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Land of Dallas, on either side. Mrs. Land wore a sweet pea georgette dress. Concluding the impressive ring ceremony, Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" was played on the piano as the party retired.

The bride wore a navy blue georgette dress trimmed in cream lace, and carried an arm bouquet of pink carnations.

Mrs. Curry is a graduate of Cameron high school of the class of 1922 and received her A. B. degree from Daniel Baker College, Brownwood, in June 1927. The past year she taught in the Maysfield schools and will teach the ensuing term at El Dorado, Texas.

Mr. Curry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Curry of Santa Anna. He is a graduate of the Santa Anna high school of the class of 1923, and later attended Daniel Baker College and Texas University where he expects to continue his studies this summer. The past year Mr. Curry was principal of the El Dorado school and will hold the same position for the term 1928-29.

After a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Curry will be at home for the summer in Austin, Texas.

Miss Weaver Honored

On last Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Conn Miller was a delightful hostess to a group of friends at her pretty home honoring as special guest Miss Mayme Clyde Weaver of Dallas.

The entire home was brightened with baskets of spring flowers in lovely pastel shades and also a profusion of sweet peas were placed about in crystal baskets to give added charm.

Three tables were arranged for 42 and eighty-four favors were announced. A group of streamers extending above the writing desk revealed a hidden well of dainty favors that the lucky one must draw. This part of the afternoon's pleasure was most enjoyable as bidding was high and never low.

After many merry games the hostess served a dainty plate with iced mint tea. Table favors were kitchen untensils with white handles and were cut for by Mesdames Thad Epperson, John Perry and Miss Weaver. Plate favors were sweet pea corsages. Miss Weaver was given as guest prize a hand made novelty bag which formed the skirt for a dear little doll.

FROM THE MAIL BOX

Immediately after the smoke of the political battle had been lifted at Beaumont, Governor Dan Moody's lieutenants are attempting to justify his stand on self-government. They, like the Governor, admit that his position was an awkward one, and the feeling of awkwardness creeps over them precisely to the extent of the loss of the Governor's hold on his political machinery. Lynch Davidson still suffering from the pangs of a most overwhelming defeat by the people at the polls not so long ago, finds solace and consolation in speaking of the Governor's kind gestures. In an interview published in nearly all of the dailies, he says that Moody should not have apologized because he did sacrifice his principles of self-government.

The Governor agreed, as was a rule in state conventions, to allow the people of each congressional district to select their own delegates to the National Convention. This fundamental principle of self- government was denied the people by the political bosses Moody, Davidson and Ball. No private citizen has a right to compromise, sacrifice or forego any principles of self government; no official has a right to usurp such a principle because it is an inherent right of a free people. During the World War the boys fought for the preservation of self-government. It is one of the most cherished rights that a citizen possesses. Self-government distinguishes a free man from a slave, and the fundamental principles of a republic are grounded on self-government. A monarchy has no such form of government.

Lynch Davidson further justifies the Governor's conduct on this occasion by saying that he wished to carry out the will of the people. The positive action of these men, denying the people to choose their delegates, destroys Davidson's statement. Twelve of the eighteen ditricts selected Smith delegates. Moody, Davidson, and Ball knew that to be true. For that reason they cast aside the majority report of fifteen against three, and selected eighteen men not in sympathy with the wishes of the people. Dan Moody was with the eighteen, destroying the will of the people. In either event it was an injustice. If it is just to take away the rights of the people in part, it would be right, under such a theory, to destroy in whole the principles of self-government.

In the Governor's camp there is gloom because such a political move destroyed a part of his political machine. Without it, he must go before the people, and ask for re-election on his own record. The people of Texas are very anxious to know that record. His nine amendments to the Constitution were voted down by the voters for reasons best known to them. It is easier to say what Governor Moody has not done to benefit the farmer, the cattleman and the business man than to say what he should have done.

Senator Reed of Missouri was rejected by the political bosses of his state. He presented his record to the people. They rejected the political bosses and put Reed back into power. Reed never sacrificed a single principle of self-government, but he did make a firm and determined stand for their preservation. The clutches of "Bossism" are entwined on the people of Texas.

Superintendent, Mrs. W. A. Bonds.
Supervisors of Departments:
Beginners, Mrs. T. A. Fisher.
Primary, Mrs. J. P. Love

Outside of the United States, the Vacation School has been extensively propagated in China, Korea, Japan, the Philippine Islands, Cuba, Porto Rico and some schools have been started in Mexico, Brazil, Chili, Argentine, Paraguay, Australia, France, Bulgaria, Greece, India and Africa.

It has been found from experience that the vacation school idea, of long, consecutive periods for effective Christian education, can be adapted to any climate, to any sort of children; to brief or long vacation periods, and to native or missionary endeavor. In other words, a vacation school can be held wherever there are children.

The P. T. A. of Gause gave a box supper last Saturday night and a number of candidates from over the county attended: Judge Gillis, Judge John Watson, Judge Jeff Kemp, Jack Lewis, Penn Wolf, L. B. Fikes, Miss Lilian Atkinson, Miss Leila Woolley, Mrs. K. K. Robbins, and L. L. Blaylock.

A May garden was simulated in decorations for the pretty tea given by Mrs. Jack Taylor who was Vertna Davidson prior to her marriage. She entertained at the Morris tea rooms Thursday afternoon with the following house party: Misses Amelia Turner, Roberta Warrens, Eunice Maxwell, Helen Ruth Coston, Doris Roberts, Mrs. W. R. White. In the dining room were Misses Virginia Ryan, Katherine Skinner and Thelma Chisholm.

Dr. Rush Thomas attended the state meeting of pharmacists in Waco last week.

T. H. Davis of Rockdale was in Cameron last week attending district court.

Our school board met last Friday night for the purpose of electing a faculty for the ensuing year. W. J. Sims was re-elected superintendent and John F. O'Shea was re-elected principle. The following teachers were elected: R. W. Nowlin, O. V. Wilson, Misses Ada Henderson, Gussie Chandler, Mary Poperwell, Lucile Tarrant, Rhoda Dorroh and Nora Hefley, Misses Ningie McIver and Evaline McLane were elected teachers of the music school. There are three high school teachers to be employed, men being required to fill the positions.

One night last week a forensic encounter took place at Yarrelton between Hon. J. K. Freeman and Dr. D. Monroe, the latter speaking for prohibition and the former against it.

Work is being pushed to have the textile school at A. & M. college ready by the opening of next term.

Mrs. Emma Burke and Miss Abbie Womack arrived in Cameron last Friday from Norman Indian Territory, on a visit to relatives and friends.

Prof. John Mocoun, naturalist of the geoligical survey, who has been making investigation in the far north reports the finding at no great distance from Dawson City, Alaska, lurant native grasses and some fine timber. Blueberries and rasberries also ripened about the same time that such berries ripened in Ontario.

Between the Rio Grande and the Nueces Rivers in Hidalgo county is a salt lake that will afford enough salt to supply the demands of the world. It contains 708 acres of pure salt. The formation is from three to four feet thick and the water is a brine of unusual strength. The water crystalizes with such rapidity thatwherever a quantity of salt is removed one day new formation of like quantity will take its place by the next day. It is but few Texas maps show it. It has said that this great salt deposit is hardly known outside the state and been used for local supply for 200 years. Wagon trains in hauling cotton to Brownsville during the war hauled loads of this salt back to the inerior and it was all the salt that Texas had during the Civi War. Transportation is the drawback to its development, it being situated far from any railroad.

Broad Sympathy

I knew a woman, who in the days before the Eighteenth Amendment, sympathized so deeply with the wives of poor drunkards that she had nothing but hatred in her heart for the saloon-keeper. Thus her sympathies were narrowed and her justice and mercy dwarfed, and much of the sweetness of her nature destroyed. She had pity and patience and mercy for the murderer in his cell, but none for the bar tender, who may have needed nothing but the sympathy and guidance of good men and women to lead him into a better business. She made herself one-sided, simply because she failed to recognize that the drunkard's wife and the saloon-keeper's wife were children of the same Father and that she was the sister of both. Let us remember that Christ died for the ungodly and sinful. His sympathies were as broad as humanity.. Because you hate sin is no reason for the hatred you feel toward the sinner. God will deal so with you.

Indian Chief To Lecture At Chautauqua

Chief Nipo Strongheart will give his vividly dramatic lecture-recital on "From Peace Pipe to War Trail" on the third evening of the Prmier Attraction program. This recital is a gripping, fascinating interpretation of the life and soul of the Indian as it appears to an educated red man of achievements in many lines.

Chief Strongheart comes to the platform from the motion picture lots of the Cecil DeMille Corporation in Los Angeles, where he hed the position of technical and ethnological director, and where he worked as a feature artist of the silver screen in the DeMille release "Braveheart." His companion artists include such well known names as Rod LaRoque, Lilian ich, Jean Acker and Tyrone Powers. In his platform appearances, Chief Strongheart appears in the picturesque costume of the Yakima Indian and in his talk he interprets the poetry, the romance and the soul of the Red man of early days.

Chief Strongheart is a direct descendent of the old fighting blood of Custer's Day. His grandfather 'Standing Rock' le done of the tribes which aided chief 'Sitting Bull' against Custer's men.

Chief Strongheart was born on the Yakima Reservation forty years ago, and was raised in Reservation fashion by his fellow tribesmen. He served ten months as United States Scout at the Mexican border, and was one of the first to offer his services to Colonel Roosevelt for enlistment at the proposed division of overseas 'Rough Riders.' He is advisor and counsellor of his own people, and has appeared before the 'great white father' in Washington on several occasions in the interest of his people and as their emissary.

When A Customer Comes Into Your Store

You show him your merchandise, you tell him about it. You tell him its good qualities and the price at which it is being sold. This is salesmanship.

But the hundreds who may not come into your store must be reached by advertising in the local newspaper.

In a well written, snappy advertisement tell them of the new merchandise, its good qualities, its desirability and the price for which it can be purchased. In so doing you awaken interest, create desire and make new customers. The results have been proven by thousands of merchants all over this land and can be duplicated in your store. Put a real message in your advertisements and they will be read and will sell the goods.

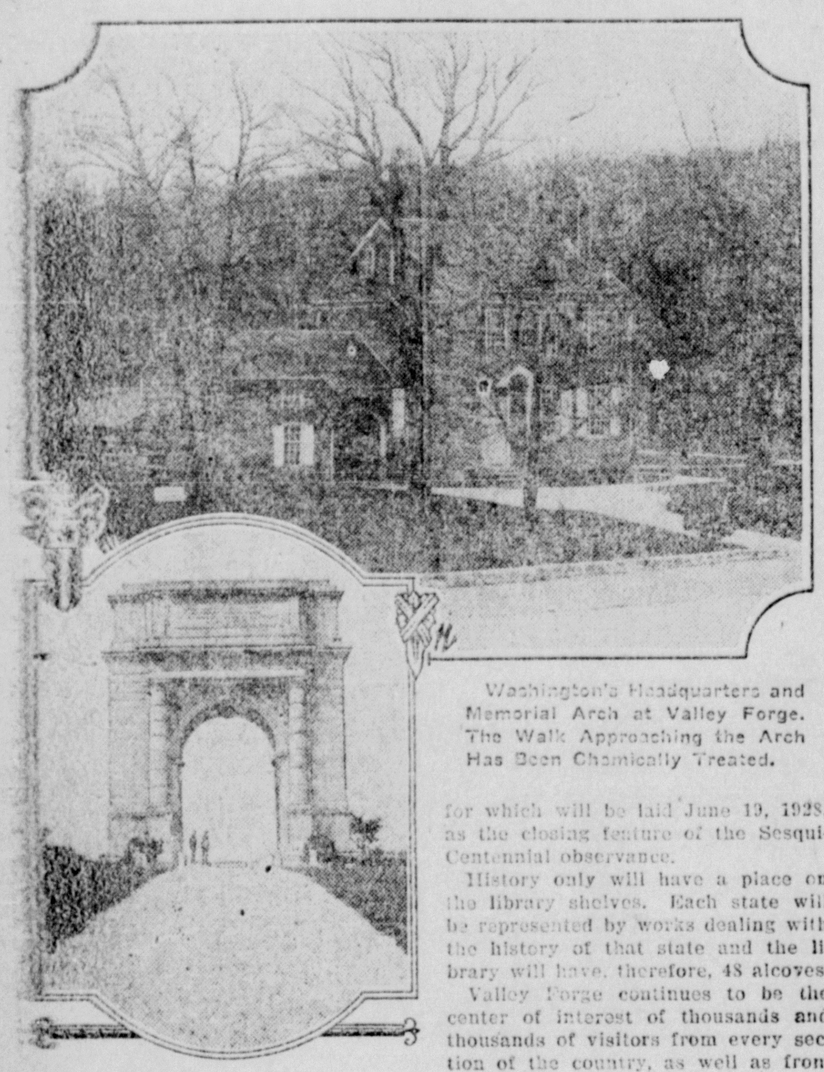
VALLEY FORGE PLANS TWO MEMORIALS TO HONOR HEROIC SOLDIERS OF 1778

Library and Non-Denominational Church Will Rise on Broad Acres Near Philadelphia — Celebration Arranged for June to Mark 150th Year.



Washington's Headquarters and Memorial Arch at Valley Forge. The Walk Approaching the Arch Has Been Chemically Treated.

VALLEY FORGE, scene of the Continental Army's martyrdom and heroism in the depressing days of 1777 and 1778, will furnish the background for a great national observance of the 150th anniversary.

Imposing memorials are planned for the big cantonment outside of Philadelphia, chiefly a Washington Memorial Library and a Washington Memorial Church, non-denominational.

While the details for the celebration have not yet been announced, it is believed that they will be most comprehensive and picturesque, including participation first of all by the thirteen original states and then by all forty-eight states.

The Washington memorials will rise on the site of the Zulich mansion, destroyed last spring by fire. The Rev. W. Herbert Burk, founder and rector of the Washington Memorial Chapel, has received assurances of gifts that will make the memorials possible.

The congregation has bought a site covering 15 acres for the buildings and an unidentified donor has promised funds for the Library, the cornerstone for which will be laid June 19, 1928, as the closing feature of the Sesqui-Centennial observance.

History only will have a place on the library shelves. Each state will be represented by works dealing with the history of that state and the library will have, therefore, 48 alcoves.

Valley Forge continues to be the center of interest of thousands and thousands of visitors from every section of the country, as well as from abroad.

Railroads and automobile bus companies regularly run excursions to the famous old shrine of patriotism and on Sundays and holidays even the broad acres of Valley Forge are taxed for space by the huge throngs. In addition many visitors travel by private motor cars over the excellent roads, kept in splendid condition by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

All roads to Valley Forge run through a landscape of remarkable beauty, artists agree, and these roads are treated, as necessity arises, with chemicals, especially calcium chloride, to lay the dust.

Only 32 miles from Philadelphia, the shrine has long been one of the favorite objectives for daily excursions for Philadelphians, as well as for visitors to that city who have combined the Valley Forge trip with a tour of other places of historic interest, such as Independence Hall, the Betsy Ross House and other relics of the Revolution.

That interest is expected to be stimulated by the forthcoming celebration.

School nurse says all girls should know this

TALKING to a roomful of high school girls on personal hygiene, an experienced district nurse said: "One of the basic rules of health for girls is to keep the system functioning normally at all times. Normal exercise and diet habits should be encouraged. But when necessary there's no harm in taking nujol, since it works mechanically and can't disturb the normal functions of any organ of the body. Particularly with girls, there are times when nujol should always be taken. Take a spoonful every night for a few days. It's a thoroughly safe and harmless method. It won't cause distress or any pains or griping."

Nujol is different from any other substance. It contains no drugs or medicine. It can be taken safely no matter how you are feeling because it is so pure and harmless, and works so easily. Every woman should keep a bottle on hand. Every druggist has this remarkable substance. Get the genuine.

D. A. R. Entertained

A very delightful social event of the past week was given by Mrs. W. B. Thomas of Rogers on Thursday at three p. m. at her home, when she entertained the members of the Sarah McCalla chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution of which she is a member.

The home was decorated in spring flowers, in bowls and baskets and arranged in lovely sittings.

A business session was held first with items of much interest dicussed. The following committees were appointed by the Regent, Mrs. McIntosh:

Committee on Finance, Mesdames B. J. Baskin, Lottie Bigbee and Tiff Moore.

Conservation and Thrift, Mrs. Preston Graves.

Preservation of Historical Spots, Mrs. Kemp.

Program, Mesdames W. B. Thomas, W. G. Gillis and Jeff T. Kemp.

zFlowers, Mesdames W. H. Stafford and W. T. Hefley

National defense, Mrs. Pearl Clement.

Patriotic education, Mrs Mewhinney.

Correct use of the Flag, Mrs. C. W. Lawrence.

Ellis Island, Mrs. Bertha Brewer.

Historical Research, Mrs. S. P. Cross.

Historic and Literary Reciprocity, Mrs. Dow Eplen.

Plans were made for a picnic at Wayside Inn to commemorate Flag Day in early June. Each guest present answered roll call with poems original and adopted, but all referred to Texas or May time. Mrs. B. J. Baskin read the folowing original poem:

A spring poem Ah woe is me
I'm sure it can never be
That the poet's muse will lend me aid
To write of bird and bud and blade.

But since we've all to undertake
A bit of rhyme on spring to make,
To write I'll do my very best
Even though it all will bring a jist.

When winters chilling breeze has flown,
And the raging winds of March have blown
Then come the gentle April showers,
To swell the buds on tree and flowers.

Hidden deep in the earth below,
Tiny seeds do swell and grow
Ferns and fragrant blossoms peep
Waking now from their winter's sleep.

Gentle raindrops on the earth do fall,
And the sun's warm rays bring joy to all
As nature's beauty do unfold
Their many hues of green and red and blue and gold.

The busy bees in sunny hours
Sip the nectar from all the flowers
The birds and butterflies all declare
That spring is a season free from care.

Tis spring that comes and bids us see
Where we can make all sadness flee
Do our part to make this earth
A place that's filled with joy and mirth.

If you want to know the joy of living,
Just try sometimes the art of giving,
Make the heart of some shut-in sing
By bringing to him the joys of spring.''

Mrs. Preston read this lovely tribute to Cameron:

In spring in our town the flowers grow,
Along the grasses, row on row
That mark our lawns and in the sky
A lavender tint and a lake nearby
Add to its beauty and grandeur so,
Red birds singing from boughs of green
Aid in making this heavenly scene.
A rose glow at sunset helps too—
Now, I'm asking wouldn't you
Like to visit our fairy dream—
Cameron?

Mrs. W. G. Gillis read this original little rhyme:

"In springtime, as usual, I've been busy with chiggers;
The time I had left I was juggling D. A. R. figgers,
So how can you expect a poem from me,
When from the gift of a poet I am entirely free.'

Mrs. Jeff Kemp, gave "May."

For thee sweet month, the graves green livieries wear,
If not the first, the fairest of the year;
For thee the Graces lead the dancing hours,
An Nature's ready pencil paints the flowers.
When thy short reign is past, the feverish sun
The sultry tropics fears, and moves more slowly on.

Mrs. S. P. Cross gave "The First Bird of Spring."

Alders are in tassel
Maples are in bud
Waters of the blue McCloud
Shout in joyful flood;
Through the giant pine trees,
Flutter many a wing ,
But oh my dear, I'm fain to hear
The first bird of the Spring.

Mrs. Pearl Clement gave "A Garden," written by Miss Martha Berry who is head of a mountain school in Georgia and is a cousin of Mrs. Clement.

"A garden is a lovesome thing,
God wot
Rose plot
Fringed pool
Ferned grot
The veriest school of peace
And yet the fool
Contends that God is not.
Not God? In gardens when eve is cold?
Nay, but I have a sign
'Tis very sure God walks in mine."

Mrs. C. W. Lawrence gave "An Old Fashioned Garden."

Oh, just to stroll through the garden where tis fairy land to me,
And to see the old maids smiling to the bachelors' neath the tree.
I haste to the morning glory ere the sun flower raises his head
To hear the jonquils whisper to the pansies in their bed;
Oh, think you are a daisy
And my pink, 'tis tulip time."
"Yes, but touch-me-not"she murmurs, "you forgot the columbine.
And there are phlox and phloxes of others to whom the story you have told
The buttercups and dahlias and the trusting marigold."

Mrs. R. H. McIntosh gave one of her own original poems "The Texas Bluebonnets."

I know a little flower,
It's the fairest of the fair;
It blooms in fields in Texas
And comes 'fore others dare.

Tis the first in spring to tell us,
Of the wonderfu llove of God;
It is here to greet the others
As they wake from their sleep 'neath the sod.

Let France have the Lily
Let England keep the rose.
We don't care, so Texas
Is where the bluebonnet grows.

'Tis a dainty little blossom
This dear little flower in blue
And oved by every Texan
If he be a Texan true.

It's perfume comes from heaven
It's azure from the skies,
Wil sing its praise forever
On till every Texan dies.

Let France have the Lily
Let England keep the rose
We don't care, so Texas
Is where the bluebonnet grows."

Mrs. W. B. Thomas read:

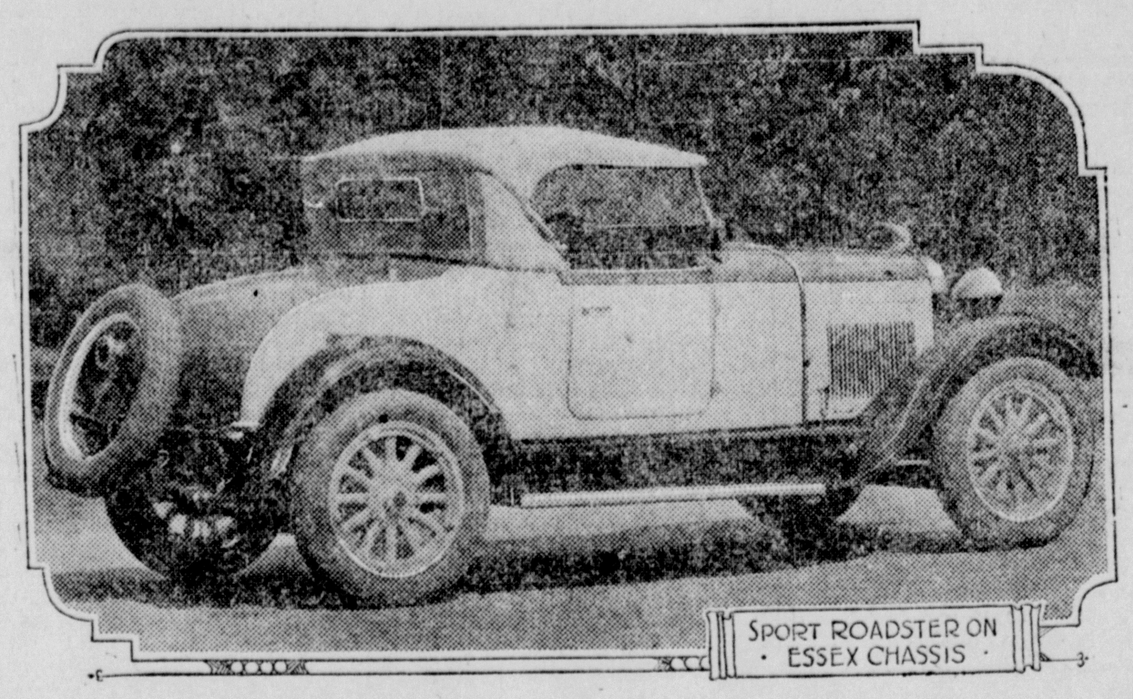
"Papa's up to meet the sun
The family's on the wing
The air is full of motor hums,
We all must have our fling."

The hostess then passed dainty little cards decorated with a colonial dames in green dresses. On the card were two namograms that proved to be colonial dames. Three namograms that when solved were three of the Sarah McCalla dames, Bigbee, Gillis and Baskin. These unique little puzzles were the handiwork of Mrs. Robert Farthing of Austin, a sister of the hostess, and a member of the Cameron chapter of D. A. R.

The hostess served a delightful salad plate with iced tea. Plate favors were colonial corsages. Guests from Cameron were: Mesdames R. H. McIntosh, W. G. Gillis, Jeff T. Kemp, B. J. Baskin, Pearl Clement, Preston Gravesor. Ll naNden',ves Preston Graves, S. P. Cross and C. W. Lawrence. Other visitors were Mrs. Reid, a sister of Mrs. Thomas and also her mother, Mrs. Thomas, both of Rogers.

HUDSON-ESSEX ANNOUNCE NEW ROADSTERS

SMART, 6-CYLINDER SPORT CARS READY AS SUMMER DAYS APPROACH



New roadsters of smart sports appeal are announced by the Hudson Motor Car Co., for both the Hudson and the Essex cars. Both of these body styles are of aluminum panels instead of sheet steel, saving weight and adding to the ranges of performance. Both of these models have special gear ratios which permit exceptionally interesting running ability. The color schemes are duotones. tops of khaki; lamps nickled; top bows of natural wood; upholstery and finish in the approved sports style. Comfortable and roomy rumble seats are standard equipment.

Hudson and Essex enthusiasts will have available this Spring the new Hudson and Essex Super-Six roadsters, designed along sport lines and equipped with a rumble seat.

The roadster type is always essentially a personal car, and wanted for its individual attractiveness more than as a means of transportation, said August Horstman, Hudson-Essex distributor. "These roadsters, following out that line of thought, seek to express the true sporting spirit of the open road.

"The color scheme of both cars is a duo-tone in browns, with the darker shade above the belt line. The radiator is nickled; vertical shutters are lacquered to match the lower body; wheels are lacquered to match the lower body. The whole result is striking and attractive indeed.

"Mounted on the Hudson and Essex Super-Six chasses these two distinctive roadsters assure owners of most satisfactory performance—in acceleration, in smoothness and open road running. Naturally the sport loving and youthful motorists will turn to this type of car with immediate enthusiasm.

"As only a few of them will be built the owners will have the benefit of exclusiveness as well as sports appeal."
